Infosheet: My Performance App

This infosheet provides tertiary education organisations (TEOs) funded by the TEC with key information about the new My Performance app.

We have released the My Performance app to support engagement between the TEC and TEOs on performance improvement and make it easier for TEOs to check their data, including for Education Performance Indicator (EPI) publication.

This infosheet builds on the key messages outlined in the 2018 Plan Guidance.

My Performance is part of the growing suite of performance tools

You can access My Performance via Ngā Kete. My Performance will support engagement between you and TEC on performance improvement by:

- ensuring that we are looking at the same information
- allowing you to see the EPIs calculated at a much more granular level
- making it easier for you to carry out data accuracy work needed for SDR reporting, publication of EPIs, and Performance-Linked Funding (PLF).

We are increasingly sharing data through Qlik to ensure you and TEC have a common view of delivery and performance, and to make it easier for everyone to learn from the data we collect from you. Over time we will phase out other ways of providing data.

You can use My Performance to explore and gain insights into your EPI performance

In the My Performance app, you can access and explore all the SDR data used to calculate EPIs. The app uses the new EPI methodology, with cohort-based Qualification and First Year Retention.

My Performance allows you to explore your EPI performance by:

- Reporting year and over time
- Qualification and course title
- Qualification and course NZSCED
- Individual NSN
- Learner demographics (age, gender and ethnicity)
- Funding source
- Attendance type
- Cohort group (Levels 1-3, 4-7 non degree, 7 degree and 8-10)
- Individual NZQF levels (1-10)

Monitoring your educational performance

We will be using this app as part of monitoring and assessing your educational performance.

When you discuss your educational performance, TEC's analysis will be based on what we see in My Performance.

How to get the most value from this business tool

› You need access to the Qlik apps. The apps will be the only way to access your commitments, performance, and delivery data. Please refer to http://services.education.govt.nz/education-sector-logon/access/tertiary-sector on how to update your education sector logon to gain access to Ngā Kete.

› Familiarise yourself with your EPI data as it appears in the app.

› The My Performance app will always hold the latest data you have submitted. When you submit an SDR change that relates to EPIs, the data in the app will refresh overnight.

› My Performance allows you to access your own EPI data. Later in the year we will release a Tertiary Performance app that provides a sector view.

My Performance is intended for use with our other apps

My Performance focuses on EPIs. It is intended to use alongside our other apps, which include:

- My Provision
- Tertiary Provision
- My Commitments
- Secondary to Tertiary Transition
